

CRC TiME Forum Speaker Biography – Chris McCombe

Chris is the General Manager – Sustainability for the Minerals Council of Australia. He has over 20 years' experience working in geoscientific, environmental and sustainability policy and practice in the public and private sectors in Australia and internationally. Chris leads key initiatives supporting the minerals industry's environmental, social and governance performance, including implementation of the Towards Sustainable Mining system in Australia. In 2018, Chris worked with the International Council on Mining and Metals, focussing on global water issues.

Prior to his role at the Minerals Council, Chris was Manager, Major Projects for the Queensland Government's abandoned mines program and has spent a number of years working as an environmental consultant across both Australia and the United Kingdom.