

CRC TiME Forum Speaker Biography – Dr Jason Kirby

Dr Jason Kirby is a Principal Research Scientist in CSIRO's Land Water Business Unit, Industry Environments Program. He is the coordinator of CSIRO's Land and Water Legacy Initiative that supports sustainable industries through a reduced environmental footprints and social impacts. Dr Kirby has greater than 17-years' experience in chemical risk assessment and management, and environmental chemistry and ecotoxicology research. His research has impact through government agencies, industry, and community; for example through the embodiment of his science in regulation, through industries social license to operate and close, freedom of industry to develop innovative and emerging technologies, and companies to manufacture and import/export safe products and goods.