

CRC TiME Forum Keynote Biography – Dawn Brock

Dawn Brock joined the International Council on Mining and Metals (ICMM) in 2017 and leads on the mine closure and water project work. She also works across other programme areas including tailings and community support.

ICMM is an international organisation that brings together 27 mining and metal companies and over 30 regional and commodities associations to strengthen environmental and social performance and enhance mining's contribution to society.

Dawn has a Master of Science degree in Environmental Science from Witwatersrand University, and also holds a Bachelor of Science Honours degree in Conservation and Biodiversity and a Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science and Economics both from Rhodes University in South Africa.